Interesting "$1 Bill" facts

Salmon P. Chase, Secretary of the Treasury, was the first person on the $1 bill in 1863.

In 1869, the bill was redesigned with George Washington's picture.

George wasn't the only Washington on the $1 bill; his wife Martha graced it in 1886!

It's not actually paper. Currency paper in the U.S. is 75 percent cotton and 25 percent linen.

The bottom of the pyramid is a long series of roman numerals: 1776.

There have been 6 historical people featured on the $1 bill.

The $1 bill hasn't changed its design since 1963.
